Support Services

Oracle NetSuite provides a full spectrum of Support Services—from Basic and Premium support, to Advise, Monitor, Optimize and Architect levels of ACS. As you move up levels in ACS, we increase our level of support across five pillars: Model, Reactivity, Resources, Assistance and Solution Complexity.

Advanced Customer Support (ACS)

Whatever your vertical or NetSuite product—ACS covers it all—from technical to functional—under this subscription-based offering.

In addition to the Premium Support offerings listed on the previous page, ACS includes solution administration, solution configuration, SuiteCloud development, education passes, release guidance and testing, performance assessment and guidance, and advisement on your platform and environment architecture. With ACS, you receive a named customer success manager, named solution team that retains your business and solution specifics, and provides proactive guidance and preventative services. The results are knowledgeable resources, faster response, optimized performance and reduced risk.

Advise, Monitor, Optimize and Architect

ACS offers four levels of support: Advise, Monitor, Optimize and Architect. As you move up levels, we increase our level of support across five pillars: Model, Reactivity, Resources, Assistance and Solution Complexity.

Model

ACS moves beyond ticket-by-ticket support needs to managed services that provide more aggressive, ongoing, proactive support.

Reactivity

As you move through the spectrum, ACS provides higher levels of reactivity from proactively generating analysis on your Oracle

NetSuite instance to driving business change based on the latest release.

Resources

As your ACS level increases, your team commitment follows from your Customer Success Manager, to your ACS delivery team to your Technical Support team.

Assistance

ACS goes from providing support and advice to executing on that advice.
